Anthropology Minor

Division of Social Sciences - Adm

Division of Social Sciences

- Program Type: Undergraduate minor related to major
- Requirements for this program are current for Fall 2015
- Required credits in this minor: 25

The anthropology curriculum, with support from sociology courses, focuses on providing a comparative understanding of the range of human cultures and societies throughout the world in both humanistic and social scientific terms. Anthropology applies this understanding to problems faced by different groups of people in the flux of the modern world. Courses meet the needs of liberal arts students and students planning to pursue anthropology at the graduate level.

Objectives-Anthropology courses are designed to provide an understanding of human beings and human society with respect to both biology and culture. Students are exposed to a broad historical and comparative framework within which to view the variety of human cultures. Course work deals with concepts, techniques, and substantive knowledge of the branches of the field, e.g., physical anthropology, social and cultural anthropology, ethnology, archaeology, linguistics, and applied anthropology. (See Sociology for more information.)

Program Delivery

This program is available:

- via classroom (the majority of instruction is face-to-face)

Minor Requirements

Up to four credits of D+ or D may be used to meet the minor requirements if offset by a sufficient number of higher grades to meet the minimum cumulative GPA of 2.00 in all courses included in the minor. Courses may not be taken S-N unless offered S-N only.

The GPA includes all, and only, University of Minnesota course work. Grades of "F" are included in GPA calculation until they are replaced.
