Communication Sciences and Disorders B.A.Sc.

Communication Sciences & Disorders

College of Education and Human Service Professions

- Program Type: Baccalaureate
- Requirements for this program are current for Spring 2016
- Required credits to graduate with this degree: 120
- Required credits within the major: 67 to 70
- Degree: Bachelor of Applied Science

The B.A.Sc. in communication sciences and disorders prepares students for admission to professional graduate degree or licensure programs in speech-language pathology, audiology, or education of the hearing impaired. This pre-professional undergraduate program also prepares students to work as clinical aides to communication disorders specialists working in a variety of human service and health care settings.

The program includes the study of phonetics, the anatomy and physiology of the speech and hearing mechanisms, the normal development of speech and language, and the nature and treatment of disorders of speech, language, and hearing disorders.

Program Delivery

This program is available:

- via classroom (the majority of instruction is face-to-face)

Admission Requirements

Students must complete 12 credits before admission to the program.

Freshman and transfer students students are usually admitted to pre-major status before admission to this major

A GPA above 2.0 is preferred for the following:

- 3.00 already admitted to the degree-granting college
- 3.00 transferring from another University of Minnesota college
- 3.00 transferring from outside the University

Upon completion of at least 12 credits at UMD and an overall GPA of 3.0, including transfer courses, a student is admitted to the program; freshman and transfer students are usually admitted to pre-major status before admission to this major. Pre-CSD majors or students with other declared majors who have an overall University of Minnesota cumulative GPA of 3.00, including transfer courses and have completed a minimum of 12 credits, may declare a CSD major. When a student is ready to declare a CSD major, his/her CSD academic adviser notifies the CEHSP Academic Services Office to institute the change in statue from pre-major to major; students must be admitted majors in order to enroll in any upper division core courses. Mandatory advising is in effect for all students with fewer then 60 credits and for students whose cumulative GPAs fall below 3.00 (including transfer work).
