Ojibwe Language Minor

American Indian Studies

College of Arts, Humanities and Social Sciences

• Students will no longer be accepted into this program after Fall 2017. Program requirements below are for current students only.

- Program Type: Undergraduate free-standing minor
- Requirements for this program are current for Spring 2022
- Required credits in this minor: 18

This minor provides focused coursework on the Ojibwe language, the indigenous language of the region. Ojibwe language study provides students with a unique understanding of Ojibwe culture and the local environment. Students are equipped to participate in a language revitalization program while enhancing their understanding of issues of cultural diversity. The minor addresses the needs of local Ojibwe communities by training Ojibwe language speakers for work in tribal schools, Ojibwe immersion programs, and schools with significant American Indian populations.

Program Delivery

This program is available:

- via classroom (the majority of instruction is face-to-face)
