Political Science Minor

Political Science Department

College of Liberal Arts

- Program Type: Undergraduate minor related to major
- Requirements for this program are current for Fall 2018
- Required credits in this minor: 16

Political scientists study topics, such as the exercise of power and influence; sources and resolution of conflicts; the relation of politics to the economy, culture, and other aspects of society; the adoption and implementation of public policies; and the development of political systems. These topics are studied at all levels, from local communities to the global community.

The scope of the discipline is reflected in the main areas of specialization that make up the undergraduate curriculum: political theory, comparative government and politics, international relations, and American governmental systems and processes.

Program Delivery

This program is available:

• via classroom (the majority of instruction is face-to-face)

Minor Requirements

Political science minors who major in global studies must complete at least two upper-division courses outside of the comparative government and international relations subfields. Global studies majors must take at least two upper-division courses from political theory or American government.

Students may earn a BA or a minor in political science, but not both.

Minor Courses

Take at least one course in two of the four subfields: political theory, American government, comparative government, and international relations.
