Along with the program-specific requirements listed below, please read the General Information section of the catalog website for requirements that apply to all major fields.

The PhD degree program in applied economics prepares students for careers in academia, government, and the private sector. This rigorous program includes core coursework in economic theory, quantitative methods, and two fields of specialization selected from the following: consumer behavior and household economics; production and marketing economics; trade and development economics; natural resource and environmental economics; health economics; labor economics; and policy analysis.

Program Delivery

This program is available:

- via classroom (the majority of instruction is face-to-face)

Prerequisites for Admission

The preferred undergraduate GPA for admittance to the program is 3.00.

The minimum preferred undergraduate GPA for admittance to the program is a B average (3.00/4.00). Most admitted students will have a higher GPA.

Other requirements to be completed before admission:

Applicants for the PhD degree should have completed an MS degree in economics, agricultural economics, or a related field; or have equivalent coursework and research experience. Applicants without a master's degree are, except in a few special cases, considered for admission into the MS program.

Prior training should include micro- and macro-economic theory at the master's level, multivariate calculus, differential equations and linear algebra, and mathematical statistics. Students lacking background in economics or quantitative methods may be required to complete additional coursework before entering the program.

Special Application Requirements:

Applicants must submit scores from the General Test of the GRE, three letters of recommendation from persons familiar with the applicant's scholarship and research potential, a complete set of college or university transcripts, and a clearly written statement of academic and career interests, goals, and objectives. For complete application instructions, visit the website:

<http://www.apecgrad.umn.edu/Admissions/index.htm>. Students should apply by the December deadline to ensure priority consideration for admissions and funding.

Applicants must submit their test score(s) from the following:

- GRE

International applicants must submit score(s) from one of the following tests:

- TOEFL
 - Internet Based - Total Score: 79
 - Internet Based - Writing Score: 21
 - Internet Based - Reading Score: 19
 - Paper Based - Total Score: 550

- IELTS
 - Total Score: 6.5
- MELAB
 - Final score: 80

The preferred English language test is Test of English as Foreign Language

Program Requirements

24 to 42 credits are required in the major.

0 credits are required outside the major.

24 thesis credits are required.

This program may be completed with a minor.

Use of 4xxx courses towards program requirements is not permitted.

A minimum GPA of 3.00 is required for students to remain in good standing.

Most students take at least 42 credits of coursework and must take 24 doctoral thesis credits. Required courses in microeconomic theory, macroeconomic theory and applied econometrics, and at least two-thirds of the remaining credits included in the PhD degree program are to be completed on the A-F grade basis.

Students must complete at least 18 course credits in applied economics at the 8xxx-level while enrolled as a current student in the graduate program (not including APEC 8901-04 and APEC 8991). PA, PUBH, and HRIR courses included in the list of fields noted in the Graduate Student Handbook can be applied to this requirement. Up to 6 credits of Department of Economics 8xxx-level field courses may be substituted for these credits (excluding ECON 8001-04, 8101-04, 8105-06, and 8205-08).

Students must pass a written preliminary exam in microeconomic theory and at least one field examination in one of the seven PhD fields offered by the Applied Economics graduate program. In addition, there is a requirement for a qualifying paper written in the second year of the program.
